About the Program

The Medical Laboratory Technician program provides students with the opportunity to acquire the necessary skills to work under the supervision of a registered clinical scientist or pathologist in a clinical laboratory, hospital, or other health agency.

The MLT student learns to collect specimens from the patient and perform laboratory tests in all areas of the clinical laboratory to include immunohematology, clinical chemistry, hematology, microbiology, serology and urinalysis.

Students enrolled in the MLT program must achieve a minimum grade of "C" in each of the medical laboratory technician courses. Upon completion of the program, the graduate is eligible for the national certification examination as a medical laboratory technician, MLT.

Unique Requirements for Admission

Acceptance into the Associate Degree Medical Laboratory Technician program is based on a selective admissions process. Requirements are:

- application for admission to college;
- official transcript from each college or university previously attended;
- official high school transcript verifying graduation or official passing GED scores;
- attendance at one Pre-Admission Conference per admission cycle;
- successful completion of math, science and course pre-requisites with a grade of "C" or higher;
- GPA of 2.00 or better in all college coursework (not just one class);
- Red Cross or American Heart Association Healthcare Provider Level CPR certification required prior to first day of class if admitted to program (online certification not acceptable);
- all college and program admission requirements must be on file by April 1 of each year to be considered for admission in the fall semester;
- documentation of computer literacy as defined by KCTCS.
